AKASHIC RECORD CRYSTAL

Akashic (a-cash-ic) Record Crystals are best described by the distinct, washboard-like grooved lines going horizontally up the side of the crystal and may look like the edges of the pages of an open book.

Akashic Records are an eternal record of every vibration, every action, every thought, every emotion, and every sound that has ever occurred, past or future. They are an array of all soul memories all recorded in the ether, which is the upper regions of space; clear sky. The lines on the Akashic Record Crystal are like the pages of a book. That “book” is about our life or lives. The information may be about past lives, our present life and the direction into which we are heading. Therefore, if you have concerns; want information; or want to know where you are headed; you can use an Akashic Record Crystal.

You need to attune to the Akashic Crystal and meditate with it. Put your finger or thumb of your left hand on the lines and actually read the lines as if you were reading Braille. These crystals will help access the information you seek. You may wish to do a meditation where you actually go to the “Akashic Records Library” so to speak and search for knowledge. Just know that they will allow you to access your information and not anyone else’s unless that person has an influence in your life. Each crystal is quite individualized to the person who has the crystal.

KISS - Akashic Records are ethereal records and an array of soul memories all stored in the etheric substance in the Universe. You can access your records by meditating.
